

The Trouble With Taxation

Boar's Head Inn • Charlottesville, Virginia • January 14–15, 2005

The American Revolution was a tax revolt. So was Fort Sumter. The Bible and Shakespeare are full of tax stories. Even the Rosetta Stone is about taxes. Few people in history like to have their money taken by force, even if the tax collector works for a pharaoh who calls himself god.

Join us for a special Virginia seminar presented by Shenandoah Electronic Intelligence, Inc. and the Ludwig von Mises Institute, on The Trouble With Taxation, January 14–15, 2005.

We'll meet at the historic Boar's Head Inn at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia (boarsheadinn.com, 434-296-2181 or 800-476-1988). Call before December 3 and mention the Mises Institute to reserve your room at $150 per night. Other accommodations are available nearby.

There is no charge for this program, but you must tell us you are coming. Return the attached form, or you may register by phone (800-636-4737) or write Pat Barnett (pat@mises.org). And see the full schedule on the events page of mises.org. Join us as we tell the pharaoh: Not so fast!
