Negative Answer

This also was answered in the negative with the statement that one of the results of such a procedure would be the legislative consolidation of the governments of the city and county of Milwaukee, and that aside from many practical difficulties there are many legal obstacles, as disclosed in the report of interim committee on city-county government consolidation in 1927.

4. "Can the legislature vest in such a new city all the governmental power now vested in the towns, villages, cities and county government of Milwaukee?"

For reasons of uniformity and others which are given the opinion held this cannot be done forcibly without an amendment to the state constitution

The other questions, whether such a new city could assume the financial obligations of the terminated underlying government and whether such a new city could start anew as to debt limit or would have to assume the old obligations were answered by stating that the former obligations would have to be assumed if such a consolidation were possible.

The opinion delved into the various legal obstacles and angles at length.

The result of the ruling is that the plans to bring about a consolidation of governments in Milwaukee county by forced action of the legislature will suffer somewhat of a set-back and that any merging which is done will have to be accomplished by the voluntary action of the various governmental units there, unless and until the state constitution is amended to give this right to the legislature

Jacob Maged, the Jersey City, N J, tailor, who aroused national interest when he was sentenced to jail for pressing a suit for 35 cents instead of the 40 cents set by the state industrial recovery act, is a free man who isn't "sore at anybody" and who thinks "the NRA is a good thing" He is shown putting up a Blue Eagle in his store after his release Judge Robert V. Kinkead (inset), who freed Maged after he had served three days of a 30-day term, promised he'd be a Maged customer.

Female "Hugger" Picks Elderly Men As Her Victims

Milwaukee. —(AP)— Two elderly men reported to police last night that they were robbed by a "hugger" woman who accosted them on the street.

Clarence Spalthoff, 68, was on his way to work when the woman, described as about 28 and "pretty nice looking," clasped him in her arms and murmured sweet phrases into his ear.

Spalthoff wriggled free and walked away, but soon discovered that a purse containing $25 was missing from a coat pocket and 50 cents he carried in a trousers pocket was gone.

While he was telling his story at the north side police station, Richard Ziersass, 77, hurried in to report that he lost a purse containing $110 in an encounter with the female hugger.

Gov. Sennett Conner of Mississippi was "graduated" from his college all over again this year, having lost his original diploma.

STATE CONSERVATION COMMISSION OF WISCONSIN
Order No. F-11

IN THE MATTER of providing a regulation prohibiting the taking, catching, killing or fishing for in any manner any large-mouth black bass (Aplites salmoides) and small-mouth black bass (Micropterus dolomieu) in each year for the period of time beginning on June 19 and ending the following June 30, both dates inclusive in any and all of the waters of Moonlight bay Jackson harbor, Bailey's harbor, Washington harbor, Eagle harbor, Egg harbor, North bay, Fish Creek harbor, Detroit harbor, Little Sturgeon bay Rowley's bay and Riley's bay, as described under the provisions of section 29 345 of the Wisconsin Statutes and all located adjacent to the shores of Door county and the waters of Green Bay and Lake Michigan.

Section 1 WHEREAS, in accordance with the power and authority delegated to the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin, by and under the provisions of section 29 174 of the Wisconsin Statutes, the aforesaid State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin, on its own motion, has caused due examination and investigation to be made of the water areas known as Moonlight bay, Jackson harbor, Bailey's harbor, Washington harbor Eagle harbor, Egg harbor, North bay, Fish Creek harbor, Detroit harbor, Little Sturgeon bay, Rowley's bay and Riley's bay, all located adjacent to the shores of Door county and the waters of Green Bay and Lake Michigan, and fully described under section 29 345 of the Wisconsin Statutes, and verily believes that a regulation should be passed by them prohibiting the taking, catching, killing, and fishing for large-mouth black bass (Aplites salmoides) and small-mouth black bass (Micropterus dolomieu) in these waters, in each year for the period of time beginning on June 19 and ending the following June 30, both dates inclusive, and

Section 2 WHEREAS, upon the evidence presented after examination and investigation by them, the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin does hereby find and determine that it is reasonably necessary, in order to secure the perpetuation and maintenance of an adequate supply of large-mouth black bass (Aplites salmoides) and small-mouth black bass (Micropterus dolomieu), and to provide safe retreats in which such fish may have an opportunity to properly spawn, raise their young, and replenish themselves, that it is necessary to prohibit the taking, catching, killing or fishing for them in any manner in the areas hereinafter described in section three of this order

Section 3 NOW, THEREFORE, the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin, on its own motion does hereby order and declare, under and pursuant to the provisions of section 29 174 of the Wisconsin Statutes, that there shall be a closed season in each year for the period of time beginning on June 19 and ending the following June 30, both dates inclusive, for the taking catching, killing, or fishing for, in any manner, any large-mouth black bass (Aplites salmoides) and small-mouth black bass (Micropterus dolomieu) in any and all the waters of Moonlight bay, Jackson harbor, Bailey's harbor, Washington harbor, Eagle harbor Egg harbor, North bay, Fish Creek harbor Detroit harbor Little Sturgeon bay, Rowley's bay, and Riley's bay all located adjacent to the shores of Door county and the waters of Green Bay and Lake Michigan, and as described under the provisions of section 29 345 of the Wisconsin Statutes and that the provisions of subsection (1) of section 29 19 of the Wisconsin Statutes be modified to conform to the regulations incorporated in this order

Section 4 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that no provision incorporated in this order shall prohibit the State Conservation Commission or Department of Wisconsin, its agents, deputy conservation wardens or representatives of the Fisheries Division of such Commission or Department from taking or fishing for large-mouth black bass (Aplites salmoides) and small-mouth black bass (Micropterus dolomieu) at any time wherein they deem it advisable and necessary to promote their general conservation program

Section 5 THIS ORDER shall be effective upon the approval of the Governor and after publication in the official state paper, namely, the Sheboygan Press of Sheboygan, Wisconsin, the Green Bay Press Gazette of Green Bay, Wisconsin, and the Door County Advocate of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, which papers are deemed advisable to fairly advise the residents of the community affected by the provisions of this order

Section 6 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Director of the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin is authorized by said Commission to validate this order by signing the same

Section 7 THIS ORDER was made and passed by the State Conservation Commission of Wisconsin at a meeting duly called and held by the aforesaid Commission in the City of La Crosse, Wisconsin, this 13th day of April, 1934.
